Bourbon Circuit Court.

FRIDAY.

In the Bourbon Circuit Court Friday in the case of the Commonwealth vs. D. G. Taylor, charged with buying pooled tobacco, the jury brought in a verdict fining the defendant the sum of $50 and costs. In two similar cases against W. H. Roberts the defendant was permitted to plead guilty in one case, the court fixing a fine of $25 and costs, and dismissing the other.

The grand jury visited the County Infirmary Friday going over in the automobiles of Samuel Clay and N. F. Brent, members of the grand jury, and of the Bourbon Garage & Supply Company. The jury made a partial report and adjourned to meet Thursday.

Judge Samuel J. Holmes, of Carlisle, attended court Friday and signed a bill of exceptions in the case of the Commonwealth vs. W. H. Lucas who was convicted at the November term of the Bourbon Circuit Court, which was presided over by Judge Holmes as special judge, the defendant being convicted on the charge of manslaughter for the killing of William Sagesar, and who was granted an appeal to the Court of Appeals.

SATURDAY.

The attorneys in the suit of T. F. Braanon against James H. Haggard for alleged criminal libel reached an agreement in the court Saturday morning by which a compromise was effected in this case and those pending of James M. O'Brien, W. H. Webb and D. C. Parrish whereby the defendant was to pay one cent and the cost of the suit in the four cases.

The suit grew out of the filing of a suit by the defendant against members of the city council in which an alleged conspiracy was charged by which members of the council and Mayor James M. O'Brien sought to increase their salaries. The firm of Walton, Dickson & Walton of Lexington represented the plaintiff while the defendant is represented by Talbott & Whitley and Judge Denis Dundon.

By agreement of attorneys on both sides the case of James McClure vs. J. D. McClintock was set for trial Thursday morning. Among the indictments by the grand jury in a partial report to the court are those of Staton Fetlock, breaking into a dwelling house, Robert Jacobs, murder, Sam Rice, breaking into a storeroom, William McClure and Lige Montague, assault and battery, and Alice Thompson, nuisance.

The defendants, who are negroes and are in jail, were brought into court and formally arraigned and their cases set for trial today.

Yesterday in Circuit Court the case of A. L. Slicer vs. the Blue Grass Traction Co. was brought to trial, the jury in the case returning a verdict for the defendant company.

The suit was the result of an accident on a car of the defendant company in which Mrs. Slicer, wife of the plaintiff, was injured by being thrown from the car. At a previous term of court, a suit for damages was brought by Mrs. Slicer for injuries sustained, but before the case came to trial a compromise was effected.

The suit brought by Mr. Slicer at this term of court was for alleged damages sustained by being deprived of the society and companionship of his wife during her illness following her accident. Court adjourned until this morning at 10 o'clock.

Next Congress May be Democratic.

Washington correspondents appear to be practically at agreement concerning the probability that the next Congress will be Democratic. Arthur Wallace Dunn, Washington correspondent for the Woman's National Daily, says: "If Champ Clark becomes speaker of the Sixty-second Congress by the will of a Democratic majority, sixteen years will have elapsed since the Democrats went out of power in the House of Representatives. Great changes have taken place in the Democratic party within that period.
In the House, supposing they are re-elected this fall, there will be but four Democrats who were members of the Fifty-third Congress, the last in which the Democrats had a majority. Two of these, Jones, of Virginia, and Livingston, of Georgia, have served continuously. Champ Clark saw his first service in the Fifty-third Congress, but missed the succeeding Congress.
Tablott, of Maryland, was in the Fifty-third Congress, but was out for eight years before he returned. Congressman Charles H. Morgan, of Missouri, was a Democratic member of the Fifty-third Congress. He is a member of the Sixty-first Congress, but he is now a Republican. He will continue to be a Republican if he is a member of the next Congress, so he cannot count as one of the Democratic survivors from the last Congress in which that party had a majority. In the Senate there are five Democrats who were members of the House of Representatives at that time. They are Bailey, of Texas; Bankhead, of Alabama; Money, of Mississippi; Rayner, of Maryland, and Newlands, of Nevada.

icott is thoroughly acquainted with all of trimming. Mrs. Watson will hold day, March 25. A handsome souvenir

It is no uncommon thing to hear of a haunted house, but the employees of the local yard of the Louisville & Nashville railroad tell a strange story of a haunted caboose that fairly eclipses most ghost stories. This was in the train service of the Louisville & Nashville a most remarkable caboose known as "No 1908." This piece of railroad furniture was caught in a wreck some years ago. None of the trainmen sustained injuries, but the old caboose was torn and gashed. After being neatly repaired in the Covington shops old "1908" was placed in the service again. But it was no longer the same dignified caboose. It began to "carry on" in a most supernatural manner. What would you think of a caboose that suddenly begins to shake and shiver like a man with the ague, and this too, when it was standing all by itself on a side track?
That's what old "1908" did. What would you say if you were told that this old caboose had intermittent hysteria? According to the statements of engineers, conductors and brakemen, whose word is as good as that of the President's, old "1908" has given them many an hour of agony and distress.

One of them said that one dark night, while coming out of Lexington in old "1908" they were suddenly stopped at the crossing of the Russell Cave pike, where a man had been run over and killed some years ago. A freight train to which old "1908" was playing rear guard. With the train as motionless as a statue old "1908" suddenly began to quiver and shake and crawl and creep like a man who had just awoken from a hideous nightmare.
The lanterns and lamps danced up and down and flickered and wavered viciously though not a breath of air was stirring. The brake beams and rods under old "1908" groaned and creaked, though no other sound came from any other part of the train. Just as the train got under headway again the trainmen in the caboose swear they heard an unearthly scream coming apparently from under the old car, and the caboose actually began to jump up and down on the rails, as if to escape some tormentor. The particular narrator further stated that he had been dozing in a chair, and then when old "1908" began its antics his chair had been gradually moved by some unseen force from near the rear end door to a point just over the front trucks. When the train reached Muir the station agent called out, "say, boys, what's the matter with the old caboose? She's acting like she wanted to sail over the pasture."

Old "1908" had been overhauled time and again in an endeavor to locate the trouble, but it contrived to shake and groan and shiver as usual, and the trainmen, though not at all superstitious, said that a night ride in old "1908" was a nerve-racking experience for even the stoutest-hearted.

The most remarkable thing that the "haunted caboose" ever did in all its erratic career, however, happened, according to very trustworthy information, near Richmond, one day. In switching some cars in on a side track old "1908" was left standing alone on the main line with brakes tightly set.
Not a human being was on the caboose or near it. All at once the brakes were released by some unseen power, and the old caboose slowly crawled along, shivering and quivering in every timber. Gathering momentum rapidly it bowled along the smooth track at a merry gait and was rushing recklessly to destruction when the engineer sounded the alarm, and started in pursuit. Old "1908" still kept on its reckless get-away career, swaying from side to side, jumping up and down, actually clearing the rails at each jump. On came the engine and trainmen in hasty pursuit. When the "crazy old 1908" struck an up grade, got twisted up in some inconceivable manner, and plunged over an embankment into a pasture. The train crew solemnly aver that when they got to the scene of the unlucky old caboose's disaster they found the old car acting like a person in the death agonies. It shook, rattled and groaned, and the sights and sounds almost persuaded the men that old "1908" was really and truly haunted or possessed of some supernatural trouble.

Dozens of stories have been told by men of high standing in the local service of the Louisville & Nashville, regarding old "1908" and its remarkable behaviour, but these two instances will suffice. The old caboose has long ago been put out of business and its ghost laid, but its erratic doings and unseemly behavior still furnish themes for many a gabfest when the oldtimers gather in the yard clerk's office.

THEATRICAL.

"BUSTER BROWN."

"Buster Brown" is the attraction at the Grand tomorrow night and if you have a deposit in the bank of laughland, prepare to draw a big check and make an investment that will give you big returns. You have doubtless seen a number of Lilliputian comedians and midget laugh makers, but Herbert Rice as Buster Brown is the real one, is so thoroughly imbued with the artists spirit of Buster that he seems the characters in every quip and quirk. Master Rice is an artist in the fun purveying field, and is ably supported by his pal Mary Jane, and canine friend Tige. A new play entirely surrounds him. Buster has lived and triumphed year after year, and as one bright writer said, "He is the veritable boy that never grew up." A great many song hits have been produced in this season's production, notably the "Billiken Man" which is performed by the Buster Brown Ponies. It is a decided novelty. Without Buster Brown the theatrical season would not be complete. The children watch for its coming with as much interest as they do a holiday.

"THE CAT AND THE FIDDLE."

A gorgeous musical extravaganza! "The Cat and the Fiddle" is the attraction at the Paris Grand on next Friday, March 25. A company of some forty singers, dancers, comedians, and a large and carefully trained beauty chorus smartly gowned are promised. The plot is founded on the famous old nursery rhyme, of "Hi Diddle Diddle, the Cat and the Fiddle." It deals with sprites, fairies, elfs, mortals, immortals, etc., and a large field for fun making, ballet evolutions, chorus numbers and music entered into, and it is claimed, full advantage taken of.

More novelties, stage illusions and transformations, magic, and beautiful stage settings are promised than has ever been presented by one organization before.

Some of the prominent scenes include "On Deck of the Fairy Ship Diana," "The Golden Fire Shower," "The Air Ship," "Under the Sea," "The Giants' Haunted Castle," and others too numerous to mention.

The cast includes Chas. A. Sellon, as "Happy," a child of fortune, favorably known here from last season, the El More Sisters, as the twins; Geo. F. Wakefield, as "Great Cobs," Johann Berthelson, as the lieutenant; Lawrence Gotthard, as the Gigantic Cat; Theresa Miller, as beautiful and statey "Circe," Florence Willis, the lovable fairy princess, and a capable number of other good extravaganza players.

Improvement in L. & N. Yards.

Blue prints for immediate improvements in trackage, depot and office buildings of the Louisville & Nashville railroad in this city, aggregating $250,000, have been received at the office of Superintendent W. H. Anderson. The scheme of improvement embraces the tearing away of the freight depot and the erection of a building 35 feet wide and 250 feet long. The Northwest end of the building will be two stories high, the lower floor being equipped with offices and the upper one as a storage room for the records of the company. An additional track will be installed and the depot will be arranged in two divisions, one for outgoing freight for the different divisions of the road, and the other for the reception of incoming merchandise.

The greatest benefit to be derived by the public will be the accommodations at the passenger depot. The latter will be moved backward so as to afford a nineteen foot walk which will be concreted a distance of five hundred feet with an overhead covering as a protection from bad weather in winter and the sun in the summer. All switching of freight, the turn table and handling of engines will be removed to the yards near the junction leaving the tracks free from all business other than that of passenger trains.

Through trains, to and from the South will enter on the third track while local trains will occupy tracks No. 1 and No. 2, enabling passengers to have ingress and egress without climbing from one train to another. The new arrangement will prevent the blockading of the crossing at Winchester street, and greatly facilitate the prompt handling of baggage and express matter.

In the south yards a new office building will be erected for the reception of Yard-master Wilder and General Foreman Ed Gorey. Fifteen new tracks for the handling of freight trains will be installed and all trains for both ends of the roads will be made and dispatched from this point.

The south yards, where the company recently purchased of the Bacon heirs fifteen acres of land will soon be the scene of active building operations. In addition to several miles of new track and office building the company will install a large water tank, round house and machine shops.

The work is expected to be under headway within the next three weeks and will require a large force of skilled mechanics besides an unusually large amount of grading will be necessary.

A Rare Opportunity.

The ladies of Bourbon and surrounding counties will have a rare opportunity of witnessing one of the swiftest displays of millinery ever made in Central Kentucky at the millinery store of Mrs. Corne Watson Baird, on Friday, March 25. The stock of pattern hats of Mrs. Watson's teems with latest styles from the most fashionable centers of the East and the ladies should avail themselves of this opportunity of attending this elaborate display. A handsome souvenir given to the purchaser of each hat.

DEATHS.

—Mrs. Bridget Powers, wife of Mr. James Powers, died Friday night at her home on the Ruddled Mills pike. Mrs. Powers was the daughter of the late Michael and Johanna Hayes and is survived by her husband and one son, William Powers, and one daughter, Miss Johanna Powers.

Mrs. Powers was a sister of Thomas Hayes, of Denver, Col., and Miss Ellen Hayes, of Paris, and a half sister of Mrs. George Hines, of Cincinnati. Mrs. Richard Gregory, of Paris, and Mrs. J. P. Conway, of Winchester.

The funeral services took place Monday morning from the Church of Annunciation at 9 o'clock. Services by the Rev. Father Eugene DeBruyn. Interment in the Paris Catholic cemetery.

—Mr. George Redmon, formerly a resident and business man of this city, died Saturday afternoon at his home in Charleston, W. Va., after a protracted illness of Bright's Disease.

Mr. Redmon, who was in his seventy-first year, was a son of W. T. and Sallie Lair Redmon, of Bourbon. His early boyhood days were spent on the farm of his father near this city. At the outbreak of the Civil War his sympathies were with the South and he enlisted in the Confederate service with Company C, Ninth Kentucky Infantry, under the command of Captain Ed Taylor, who with Col. Jos. Hedges are the only surviving commissioned officers of the heroic company. Mr. Redmon participated in all the principal battles in which this company was engaged and by his gallantry and daring arose to the rank of Lieutenant, in which he served until the close of the war.

At the close of the war he moved from his farm to this city where he and his brother, the late Chas. Redmon, built the residence on High street now occupied by Mr. Jos. W. Davis. In this city Mr. Redmon was engaged in the dry goods business under the firm name of Redmon & Bro., at the same time conducting the old Bourbon House, which is now known as the Windsor hotel, from the year of 1866 to 1875.

In the year of 1875 Mr. Redmon located in Texas, but later moved to Charleston, W. Va., where he has resided for a number of years. Only one of his immediate family survives him, Mrs. Mary Jane Redmon, of Texas, who is now in her eightieth year.

The death of Mr. Redmon marks the passing away of the third member of Company C., of the Ninth Kentucky within the past eighteen months, Mr. John W. Penn and Col. A. T. Forsyth, having answered the final summons.

The remains arrived in this city last evening at 6:20 and were taken to the residence of Mr. H. O. James, on Pleasant street. The interment will take place in the Paris cemetery this morning at 10 o'clock with services at the grave by the Confederate veterans.

—Mr. Wm. F. Davis, aged 94 years, died in Maysville Sunday of the infirmities of old age. He was a member of the Odd Fellows and probably the oldest member of the order in the United States.

MATRIMONIAL.

—The marriage of Miss Julia Hogue Spencer of Lexington, to Mr. William Breckinridge Ardery of Paris, will be a beautiful event of April. The wedding will be celebrated on the evening of April 14 at 7 o'clock, at the Central Christian church, the bride's father, the Rev. I. J. Spencer, officiating. Miss Eva Spencer, a sister of the bride, will be maid of honor, and Mr. William Woodford, of Paris, best man, and there will be four groomsmen. On the evening before the wedding Rev. and Mrs. Spencer will entertain the bridal party informally at their home on Walnut street.

Ashland Again Defeated.

Before one of the largest crowds ever assembled at the gymnasium of the Paris High school, the Paris girls defeated the girls from the Ashland High School by a score of 30 to 6. The Paris girls played a brilliant game from the start and defeated their opponents with little effort. This is the second time this season the Paris and Ashland girls have met and each time victory was complete for the Paris team. Immediately after the game between the girls the two teams of boys, representing the Senior and Junior classes met in one of the fiercest contests of basket ball ever seen in this city, the Seniors in the end coming out the victors by the close score of 15 to 14. The game was hotly contested and brilliant plays on the part of both the seniors and juniors were numerous.

Toadvine, who had contracted to deliver part of this crop to H. N. Garnett, a local dealer. Toadvine had pooled an acre and a half and had three and a half acres he had not signed up, which part he had contracted to deliver to Garnett.

The court granted a permanent injunction restraining Toadvine from delivering the tobacco, and held in accordance with the pooling pledge, which provides for the pooling not only of the tobacco mentioned in the pledge, but for the pooling of all tobacco raised or owned by the signer to be held in the pool.

This is the first case of the kind decided in the State and is an important decision for the Burley Tobacco Society.

Three Twins in Lexington.

A most important event in Lexington theatricals, is the coming of Jos. N. Gaites' sensational musical comedy success, "Three Twins" to the Lexington Opera House Monday and Tuesday and Tuesday matinee, March 28 and 29. The success of this product will be lasting, on account of the sterling qualities of the music and story. Mr. Gaites has followed this up with a most elaborate production and the company which will appear in Lexington is most capable. Some novel electric features are introduced that have startled even New York. The "Faceograph" ranks first, as it is the most mystifying illusion that has been presented in years, showing as it does, a picture that is actually living; another is a gigantic electrical swing that weighs three tons and is lighted with over nine hundred lamps. Another novel effect is at the end of the first act, when a canoe laden with an eloping couple, is seen crossing a river with the moon rising behind the clouds; this one number requires four electricians to operate the effects, but is a mere episode of the entertainment. The musical hits of the piece are many and it is almost an impossibility to adjudge the winner, probably the most popular are "The Yama Yama Man" and "Cuddle Up a Little Closer."

"PERSONAL INJURY CLAIMS"

During the year 1909, 123 claims for injury to person or property by the operation of our lines were made. The sums asked for in these suits and claims amounted in the aggregate to $122,728.05. It is impossible, apparently, to operate railways without occasional injury to persons or property of some people. When the large number of persons transported, and the great number of car miles are considered, the accidents are relatively few, yet the sum total of the demands made is surprisingly great, and the sum total of money distributed in settlement of these claims is astounding. Like all railway operators we give the closest attention to this phase of our business. We know that "accidents will happen," but we also know that there is no employee in this or any other similar company who deliberately starts out to injure people or property, and we further know that every employee is using his utmost endeavor to avoid accidents. Therefore, with all the precautions that are taken by the company and its representatives, how is it that so many will happen? As a result of years of consideration, we have reached the conclusion that fifty per cent of them are due to the carelessness and want of observation on the part of the public at large. The man or vehicle crossing the track has it always within his power to "turn out," to avoid a collision; the motorman cannot "turn out." The best he can do is to try to stop, and that he always does, and yet, a great proportion of claims made for damages are incident to collisions with persons or property, which could have been avoided by the use of ordinary judgment and discretion on the part of the individual. Railway companies investigate at once every accident. If it be due in the slightest degree to the company, it is their policy to settle satisfactorily, claims arising out of such accidents. Ninety per cent of just claims are not settled because of what the railway believes to be inordinate demands on the part of the claimant. A large part of the public seem to think that it is ethical, proper and just that the railway company should be mulcted in heavy, unconscionable damages for every injury, no matter how small in substance. Unfortunately there is an imaginable injury, which has received the medico-legal term of traumatic hysteria. Many such cases are settled, and such settlements invariably effect a marvelous and hasty cure. We are not endeavoring to evade a responsibility, but we do think this is a proper and opportune moment in which to ask the public at large to stop and consider justly the position of the railway company in such matters.

STOCK, CROP AND FARM NOTES.

—Housewives may, within a very few months, be compelled to pay the dollar for an ordinary broom, is the discouraging prediction of the large manufacturers of this commodity in Southern Indiana. Evansville factories are reported to be offering three times the normal prices for broom corn, and they find it an extremely scarce article even at that figure. It is stated that of the supply now on hand, if an equal division could be made, there is only enough broom corn in the country to supply two brooms to each family, and the next harvest is months away.

—The Department of Agriculture has issued a warning against the opening up of new territory for the cultivation of tobacco. The department forecasts a gloomy future for the tobacco growers. It points out that foreign countries are more active than ever in promoting the home production of tobacco, which is ruinous to the export trade. The department predicts that in the future the demands for export will be confined more and more to the relatively high grades.

—About 3,500,000 pounds of the 1909 pooled tobacco has been delivered in Fleming county, which leaves only about 500,000 pounds yet to be received in winter order. Heavy deliveries are yet being made, and work is being rushed on the new redrying and storage plant which is being erected there.

—A big mass meeting of the farmers of Fleming and adjoining counties will be held in Flemingsburg March 31 for the purpose of organizing a corn growers association. State Commissioner of Agriculture, M. C. Rankin, of Frankfort and C. S. Kirk, of Inez, Ky., will deliver addresses.

—A Henderson, Ky., butcher paid $13.50 for forty 200 pound hogs on Thursday of last week. This is the highest price reported in any market. This is above the general quotations and suggest that probably that butcher was in the hole.

—Sheep are dying in large numbers from a strange disease, in some counties, and some farmers report heavy losses. It is said that sheep afflicted with the disease become suddenly sick and die before they can be relieved. Some attribute the malady to the hard winter, while others say it is caused by an insect which enters the head through the nostrils.

—A dispatch from Carlisle says: "Hogs sold the banner at the farmers' sales being held in this county when $11 continues to be realized, when but few buyers are found. All stock and produce is selling sky high. The worst butter famine ever known here is now being realized, and little is to be had at thirty cents per pound, with many families being compelled to do without it entirely."

—Total receipts of live stock at the Chicago market last week were 84,200 cattle, 87,100 hogs and 54,100 sheep. The week's receipts, compared with the previous week, in round numbers decreased 3,900 cattle, 23,300 hogs and increased 9,900 sheep. Compared with the corresponding time last year cattle increased 2,300, hogs decreased 77,100 and sheep 18,300.

—The horse sale of Kenedy and Bramblett, at Carlisle, March 15, was a grand success. Between 80 and 90 horses, mules and cattle were sold at good prices. Carlisle Chief, the saddle stallion of W. M. Mathers sold for $300. Several other stallions were sold at prices ranging from $250 to $300. Also some jacks and jennets were sold at low prices. Mules sold from $225 to $450 per pair.

—After reaching the $11 mark the hog market stops awhile, looks up and down and seriously thinks of making it $12, before the rise is at an end, says the Farmers Home Journal. There is no crop can recuperate so quickly as the hog crop. A little extra attention to the farrowing sow this month and next, and a fairly good corn year and a million or so more fat pigs can easily be sent to next winter's market. High prices and good prospects stimulate the farmer to nurse the pigs and there is never a failure in the corn crop all over the country at one time. So much for the probability of an increase in production. How about the demand? In a country like ours, young and yet growing, there is a call each year for food products greater than the year before. There is a steadily growing consumption of meats. Hogs may not—probably will not—sell at present figures but they pay pretty well at half of it, and this gives hope for the present at least.

To The Public.

I desire to say that when I took the agency for Zemo, it was after a thorough investigation as to the merit and curative properties of this remedy for eczema, pimples and dandruff. I frankly admit, Zemo has far exceeded my expectations as a cure for skin diseases. I am pleased to state that I shall continue the agency as Zemo gives the best satisfaction of any similar remedy I have ever sold. My customers like Zemo because it is a clean, vegetable liquid for external use. Zemo cures by drawing to the surface of the skin and destroying the germ life that causes the disease, leaving the skin clean and healthy. It does not soil the clothing or linens and can be used freely on infants.

We will give a booklet on skin diseases and explain to any person how they can be cured at home of any form of skin or scalp disease by this clean, scientific preparation.

Liver Trouble

Remedy Free

Any intelligent person can be his own doctor in the ordinary case of liver trouble, for the symptoms cannot be mistaken. If the white of the eye becomes yellowish, if the skin becomes sallow, if pimples and blotches appear, if the bowels do not move, if you have sick headache, if you are bilious, you may be sure that your liver is torpid or inactive.

The quickest and surest remedy yet found for the cure of liver trouble or any of its symptoms is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, the great herb laxative compound. This wonderful remedy is not only a laxative, but a tonic as well. It will start the flow of gastric juice, thereby soon enabling the liver to do its work naturally. A bottle of this great liver remedy can be bought of any druggist for 50 cents or $1, and in many cases a single bottle has cured a chronic case.

For example, John W. Lee, 619 S. Pennsylvania ave., Indianapolis, Ind., had a very long-standing case of liver trouble, with pimples, blotches, jaundice, etc., and it cured him. Mrs. B. Finchum, Jackson, Ky., says the same of it. Thousands of families keep it in the house against just such an emergency, as you can never tell when some member of the family will need a good laxative.

In order to have you or any other sufferer from the liver make a test of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin without personal expense, Dr. Caldwell will send you a free test bottle if you will send your name and address. The sample will show you how pleasant it is to take, how gently it works, and how it will start you on the cure of your trouble and convince you that you have found a cure. That is the object of the sample, and the doctor urges you to send for it today.

If there is anything about your ailment that you don't understand, or if you want any medical advice, write to the doctor, and he will answer you fully. There is no charge for this service. The address is Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 500 Caldwell bldg., Monticello, Ill.

To be a philosopher all you have to do is to preach what you don't practice.

The Lash of a Fiend

would have been about as welcome to A. Cooper, of Oswego, N. Y., as a merciless lung-racking cough that defied all remedies for years. "It was most troublesome at night," he writes, "nothing helped me till I used Dr. King's New Discovery which cured me completely. I never coughed at night now." Millions know its matchless merit for stubborn colds, obstinate coughs, sore lungs, lagrippe, asthma, hemorrhage, croup, whooping cough, or hay fever. It relieves quickly and never fails to satisfy. A trial convinces. 50 cent and $1.00. Trial bottle free. It's positively guaranteed by Oberdorfer.

It's always impossible to tell where an orderly woman will put things.

Don't Break Down.

Severe strains on the vital organs, like strains on machinery, cause break-downs. You can't overtax stomach, liver, kidneys, bowel or nerves without serious danger to yourself. If you are weak or rundown, or under strain of any kind take Electric Bitters the matchless, tonic medicine. Mrs. J. E. Van de Sande, of Kirkland, Ill., writes: "That I did not break down, while enduring a most severe strain, for three months, is due wholly to Electric Bitters." Use them and enjoy health and strength. Satisfaction positively guaranteed. 50 cents at Oberdorfer's.

Peary Gets the Frigid Mitt.

So cold was the reception accorded Commander Robert E. Peary in the Sunny South he has cancelled all remaining dates and will take the platform in other territory and deliver his lecture on his exploits in the far North.

The true Southern hospitality, which is usually tendered a notable, whether a man of any political party or one who by bravery has won a niche in the hall of fame, was conspicuously absent, and the matter reached a climax in Atlanta a few days ago when Gov. Joe Brown, of Georgia, and Mayor Robert Maddox, of Atlanta, both declined to introduce the explorer. When Peary appeared in Atlanta in a building with a seating capacity of 8,000 people, he faced a mere handful of people and now the explorer is in another field.

Mayor Maddox declined to give his reasons for his action in the matter but Gov. Brown branded Peary as a fakir and made the following statement:

"The public while discrediting Cook's story, makes the mistake of supposing Peary's true, yet Peary's story is the same as Cook's. What is the best proof that Cook's story is correct? It is that Peary's story conforms to Cook's thus confirming it."

"Did Peary fake his astronomical figures in the Roosevelt? He went alone to the Pole? Why?"

"What has Peary bring save his own word? Cook brings the same, and as good. Where was Cook? If he had stayed at one place for months, it would have gotten out. If Cook has handed us a gold brick, Peary has handed us a paste diamond. It is up to Peary to explain how Cook's story can be false and his identical story can be true. The American people will not accept his smile as proof that he is not as great a fakir as he charges Cook to be. The Mount McKinley story has no bearing on the story of the North Pole. A man may tell us a thousand lies, yet tell one great truth."

"I have no interest in the controversy save the right to have the truth, but when Peary asks me to believe the same story false from Cook and true from him, I respectfully decline to be considered so 'easy.'"

"Till Representative Macon's expose of Peary I believed the stories of both were true, but if either were false both were false, were fakes. Both were heroes or both were champion liars."

A Desirable Home.

Newspaper Advertising.

Advertising pays if the man that has something to sell so regulates his advertisement as to convince the people that it is worth buying. All the substitutes for newspaper advertising can be easily avoided or disregarded by the people the advertiser tries hardest to attract, the man or woman that can afford to buy. They do not stand gaping at bill boards, and they with circulars in the mail because they are too busy, but their old friend, the newspaper, is taken into the inmost privacy of the family circle, it is discussed at the breakfast table and at the supper, it is read at leisure in the evening, and its pages are scrutinized with the interest born of long habit and discriminating taste. An advertisement in that newspaper goes into the family circle and cannot be excluded. It is welcome because it is a part of something else that is welcome, and it goes there at the very time when the occasional domestic economical council takes place. There is no substitute for newspaper advertising except loss of business.

J. T. Slade, President of the Association, called a meeting of the Association in the Trust Building Tuesday and Barney Tracey, one of the members, in a humorous speech, presented Mr. Bean with a very handsome set of diamond cuff buttons.

Aids Nature

The great success of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in curing weak stomachs, wasted bodies, weak lungs, and obstinate and lingering coughs, is based on the recognition of the fundamental truth that "Golden Medical Discovery" supplies Nature with body-building, tissue-repairing, muscle-making materials, in condensed and concentrated form. With this help Nature supplies the necessary strength to the stomach to digest food, build up the body and thereby throw off lingering obstinate coughs. The "Discovery" re-establishes the digestive and nutritive organs in sound health, purifies and enriches the blood, and nourishes the nerves—in short establishes sound vigorous health.

If your dealer offers something "just as good," it is probably better FOR HIM—it pays better. But you are thinking of the cure not the profit, so there's nothing "just as good" for you. Say so.

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, in Plain English, or, Medicine Simplified, 1008 pages, over 700 illustrations, newly revised up-to-date Edition, paper-bound, sent for 21 one-cent stamps, to cover cost of mailing only. Cloth-bound, 31 stamps. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Coburn's Minstrels.

—Don't miss the big minstrel show Tuesday, March 22, at the Paris Grand, by thinking you saw the show last season. Manager Coburn provides an entirely new company, new songs, jokes, specialties and people each season. There is but one singer retained this season from last year's company, Mr. Ollie Coghlan, in new songs, and who was a tremendous hit both professionally and personally with every patron. Possessing a remarkably clear modulated tenor and clean distinct enunciation he is at once a pleasing and popular adjunct of Manager Coburn's singing party, which is the strongest they ever carried. Robert C. Hockett, the magnificent basso of two years ago has again returned to Manager Coburn and will be heard with new selections with the show.
